Fittings

The Jokab Safety fencing system is assembled utilising different types of fittings. Large angle brackets are used to fix posts to the floor. Small angle brackets are used to mount i.e. electrical cabinets to the fence or reinforce corners of free standing fencing. Corners and joints are assembled using 'T', 'L' and 'I'-brackets. If angles of other than 90° between fencing sections are required a hinge angle bracket can be used. This hinge has fixing holes at c-c 47 mm which ensures that the distance between sections is less than 20 mm. According to EN 294, 120 mm is the smallest permitted protection distance for a gap smaller than 20 mm.
